

510024

THE DESIGN AND EVALUATION OF SOCIAL POLICY PROGRAMMES

Teachers responsible: C. Dimoulas

compulsory (C) or selection (S) course	Year	winter (W) or spring (S) semester
C	2nd	S

The course's goal is to provide knowledge that would help students to combine the theory of Social Policy and the way it is applied in Social Programmes. The issues covered are: Theories of social policy and social planning, Political controversies, different stakeholders and social planning, Historical origins and main steps in the development of social planning, Main forms of social planning, The role of social programmes in social policy, Main steps and standards for designing, planning implementing and evaluating social programmes, Theories of evaluation and social programmes, Evaluation forms, The most widely used evaluation models, methods and techniques, Different evaluation experiences from Greece and other countries.

Reading list:

- Kasimati, K., 2002. Social Planning and Evaluation: Methods and Practice. Athens: Gutenberg (in Greek).
- Iatrides, J., 1990. Planning Social Policy. Athens: Gutenberg (in Greek).