

510096

CONTEMPORARY TRENDS IN LABOUR RELATIONS

Teacher responsible: I. Kouzis

compulsory (C) or selection (S) course	year	winter (W) or spring (S) semester
S	4th	S

The course aims to analyze current trends in the field of labour relations as well as its consequences. As such it examines the question of work model as this was shaped in postwar Europe, the factors causing this, the content of flexibility at work as a sovereign new tendency towards a new, flexible labour model, the social consequences of this development alongside the whole debate on upgrading and deregulation of labour market in Greece and Europe.

- Reading list:
- Kouzis, I., 2001. Labour Relations and European Integration: Flexibility and Deregulation or Upgrading of Work, INE Studies, no 14, Athens (in Greek).
 - Lympiraki, A. & Mouriki, A., 1996. The Silent Revolution: New Organizational Patterns of Production and Work. Athens: Gutenberg (in Greek).