

510114

DEMOGRAPHY OF MODERN GREECE

Teacher responsible: C. Bagavos

compulsory (C) or selection (S) course	year	winter (W) or spring (S) semester
S	3rd	S

The course analyses the main characteristics of the population of modern Greece. It emphasises the study of fertility, mortality, migration, population trends and prospects in the case of Greece. It also implies the analysis of the socio-economic impact of population changes in the short, medium and long run.

Reading list: - Bagavos, C., & Moissidis, A., eds., 2004. The New Demographic Era of the 21st Century. Trends, Implications, Policies, Athens: Gutenberg (in Greek).